SECTION 1: IDENTIFICATION

GETTING A VOTER REGISTRATION CARD

Getting a voter registration card is simple, and you can use a voter registration card to help you get a copy of your birth certificate, or other forms of ID.

You are only ineligible for a voter registration card if you were convicted of a felony and you are still on parole. If you're on probation, if you've completed your sentence, or if you were only convicted of a misdemeanor, you are eligible to vote.

To get a voter registration card, you only need to fill out a one-page mail-in voter registration form. You must bring or mail the form to the Town Hall or City Hall for the town or city where you live. The New Haven Registrar of Voters is located on the second floor at 200 Orange Street, New Haven, CT 06510.

Voter registration forms in English and Spanish are online at: <http://www.ct.gov/sots/cwp/view.asp?a=3179&q=392218>

GETTING DOCUMENTS NOTARIZED

Getting a document notarized means taking it to a notary public. A notary public is someone who is legally authorized to witness signatures and certify that a document is valid.

There are several notaries in downtown New Haven, including:

FedEx Office

30 Whitney Avenue (between Grove and Audubon)
New Haven, CT 06510
203-495-9741

Monday to Friday, 9:00 a.m.—6:30 p.m.

→ The notary is in and out during the day, so call ahead.

The UPS Store

24 Dixwell Avenue (at the corner of Lake Place)
New Haven, CT 06511
203-772-4445

Monday to Friday, 8:30 a.m.—6:30 p.m.

Saturday, 9:00 a.m.—5:00 p.m.

Sunday, 11:00 a.m.—4:00 p.m.

→ The notary is in and out during the day, so call ahead.

To have a document notarized, you must bring two pieces of ID, at least one of which should have your photograph. You should bring your DOC discharge papers and any other documents you have, such as:

- a utility bill (gas, electric, water)
- a cell phone bill
- any mail addressed to you
- a letter from your parole officer or probation officer
- a pay stub or a letter from your employer
- Social Security card, health insurance card, or DSS card
- your lease or rental agreement
- a letter from a shelter where you're staying

Call ahead to ask the notary what documents he or she accepts.

If you don't have ID, you can also prove your identity to the notary with a "credible witness" — someone who knows both you and the notary. Call ahead to ask the notary for help finding a "credible witness."

GETTING A BIRTH CERTIFICATE

A few states treat birth certificates as public records. But most states require some ID to get a copy of your birth certificate.

If you have little or no ID, the best approach is usually to ask a parent, spouse, child, or other relative with standard ID to apply on your behalf, ideally before your release from prison.

Some states accept Department of Correction discharge papers as ID to obtain a birth certificate, either by policy or by informal practice. You should call ahead to confirm whether the office will accept your DOC discharge papers as ID.

Procedures for getting your birth certificate vary from state to state; if you don't have standard ID, your success in getting a copy of your birth certificate may depend on the mood of the staffer you talk to that day. Help from a mentor or discharge planner may improve your chance of success.

Place of Birth: New Haven

Web: <http://www.cityofnewhaven.com/VitalStatistics>

Phone: 203-946-7931 or 203-946-8084

Hours: Monday to Friday, 9:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m.

Cost: $15.00 for wallet copy, $20 for full-sized copy

ID needed: A valid, current government-issued photo ID, like:

- Current non-driver ID issued by Connecticut DMV
- Current driver's license ID issued by the State of Connecticut DMV (with the correct address)
- Current driver's license ID issued by another state
- Valid passport

If you don't have a photo ID, you will need two of the following:

- Utility bill with a current address
- Pay stub
- Social Security card
- Medical card

→ If you don't have any of these, bring your DOC discharge papers to the Office of Vital Statistics and the staff will help you.

Who can get a copy: You, your spouse, your parents, your grandparents, your children (if 18 or older)

What to do:

- Go to the Office of Vital Statistics, at 165 Church Street between Chapel Street and Elm Street (the City Hall building) in New Haven. The Office of Vital Statistics is on the ground floor, Room 154.

- Bring your DOC discharge papers and any other ID you have.
- Bring $10.00 in cash, or a money order made out to "New Haven Vital Statistics."
- Fill out the form "APPLICATION FOR COPY OF BIRTH CERTIFICATE."

What to do if you don't have the right kind of ID: If you don't have any ID, a family member who has photo ID can request a copy of your birth certificate by going to the Vital Statistics Office. Your parents will only need a photo ID. Your spouse will need a photo ID and (if you weren't married in New Haven) a copy of your marriage license. Your children will need a photo ID and (if they weren't born in New Haven) a copy of their own birth certificate. Your grandparents will need a photo ID and (if your parent wasn't born in New Haven) a copy of your parent's birth certificate (mother or father, whichever is their child).

How long it will take to receive a copy: It depends on the line, but probably around 15 minutes.

Place of Birth: Other Connecticut Towns

Web: <http://www.ct.gov/dph/cwp/view.asp?a=3132&q=390652>

→ If you were born in Connecticut, the best way to get a copy of your birth certificate is from the clerk's office for the town where you were born. Check the list of "Connecticut Town and City Clerks" to find the address and phone number. For example, if you were born in Bridgeport, you would contact the Vital Statistics Office at 202 State Street, Bridgeport CT, 06604, or call 203-576-8208. You can find this list online at:

<http://www.ct.gov/dph/cwp/view.asp?a=3132&q=388128>

Cost: $15.00 for wallet copy, $20 for full-sized copy

ID needed: A valid, current government-issued photo ID, like:

- Driver's license
- State issued identification card
- Government issued employment identification
- Passport

If you don't have a photo ID, you can use two of the following:

- Social Security card
- Written verification of identity from employer
- Car registration
- Copy of utility bill showing name and address
- Checking account deposit slip stating name and address
- Voter registration card

→ If you are on probation or have completed your sentence, it's simple to get a voter registration card. To find out how, see the section, "Getting a Voter Registration Card."

→ If you don't have any of these forms of ID, many clerk's offices will accept DOC discharge papers. Call ahead to check.

Who can get a copy: You, your spouse, your parents, your grandparents, your children (if 18 or older)

→ If you can, it's better to go in person to the clerk's office for the town or city where you were born. Find the address and phone number of the clerk's office on the list "Connecticut Town and City Clerks" and call ahead for directions. Tell the clerk what forms of ID you have, including your DOC discharge papers, and ask if this is enough to get a copy of your birth certificate. Remember, you can ask your parole or probation officer, your employer, or a social services worker for a letter stating who you are.

If you have the right ID, you should go in person and:

- Bring copies of all your IDs, including your DOC discharge papers
- Bring cash or a money order for $10 made out to the town where you were born. (For example, if you were born in Bridgeport, make it out to "City of Bridgeport.")
- Fill out the form for a copy of your birth certificate.

→ If you can't go in person, you can mail in your request. Find the address and phone number of the clerk's office for the town or city where you were born, and call ahead. Tell the clerk what ID you have, including your DOC discharge papers, and ask if this is enough to get a copy of your birth certificate. Remember, you can ask your parole or probation officer, your employer, or a social services worker for a letter stating who you are.

To mail in a request when you have the right ID, you should:

- Fill out the form "REQUEST FOR COPY OF BIRTH CERTIFICATE"
- Make photocopies of whatever ID you have, including your DOC discharge papers
- Get a money order for $10.00 made out to the town where you were born. (For example, if you were born in Bridgeport, make it out to "City of Bridgeport.")
- Mail the form, the photocopies, and the money order to the address on the list of "Connecticut Town and City Clerks." Call ahead to double-check the address.

What to do if you don't have the right kind of ID: If a family member has a photo ID, they can get a copy of your birth certificate, either in person or by mail. Follow the instructions for mailing in a request above, but use your family's ID above. Your parents will only need a copy of their own photo ID. Your spouse will need a copy of their own photo ID and a copy of your marriage license. Your children will need a photo ID and a copy of their own birth certificate. Your grandparents will need a photo ID and a copy of your parent's birth certificate (mother or father, whichever is their child).

How long it will take to receive a copy: If you or a family member goes in person to the clerk's office, you should be able to get your birth certificate that same day. If you or a family member requests a copy by mail, it may take 4-6 weeks.

Place of Birth: Outside Connecticut

For a guide to obtaining your birth certificate that covers all fifty states and Puerto Rico, as well as sample application forms (in a separate file posted on the same site), see the City of New Haven's Prison Reentry Initiative website, at:

Community Services Network of Greater New Haven

34 Park Street, New Haven, CT 06519

Phone: 203-974-7082 Fax: 203-974-7719

Website: <http://www.med.yale.edu/psych/csn/housing.html>

Community Services Network (CSN) offers recovery-oriented services that provide people with the support necessary to live meaningful and satisfying lives in the community. CSN promotes recovery by offering a continuum of integrated services, including evidence-based treatments and emerging, innovative services. Services are primarily for individuals with severe and persistent mental illness and those with co-occurring substance use disorders. CSN provides residential placement options and comprehensive support services. Programs include supportive housing programs, supervised housing, independent living supports, and transitional programs.

Population Served: For clients living in Catchment Area 7 (New Haven, Hamden, Woodbridge, Bethany), who are 18 years or older, indigent, and diagnosed with a severe and persistent mental illness that is not primarily the outcome of substance abuse or mental retardation.

Additional services are available through the Supportive Housing Program (SHP) for clients who are specifically struggling with homelessness, mental illness and co-occurring substance abuse.

Language(s) Spoken: English, Spanish

Restrictions: For CSN, must be an indigent adult diagnosed with a severe and persistent mental illness that is not primarily the outcome of substance abuse or mental retardation. For SHP, must be specifically struggling with homelessness, mental illness and co-occurring substance abuse.

Referral/Drop In: Referral required from the client's mental health provider by submitting an Inter-Agency Referral Form. The referring clinician and client will then be invited to attend a CSN provider meeting to discuss the client's history and treatment needs. A recommendation for housing will be given and the client will be invited to visit the program to learn more.

For SHP programs, please also fill out the SHP Screening form included with the referral form. Referral packets can be requested from CSN Senior Administrative Assistant Sharon DeGenaro at 974-7082 or by email at sharon.degenaro@yale.edu or online at <http://www.med.yale.edu/psych/csn/index3.html>

Documentation Needed Prior to Entry: Inter-Agency Referral Form submitted by a referring clinician.

Can You Apply Before You Leave Prison? No.

Youth aged 17 to 20 will usually be placed in Umoja House, where residents have their own bedrooms, but otherwise live communally with staff supervision. Youth aged 20 to 23 will usually go to scattered site housing for up to 18 months and meet with Youth Continuum case managers weekly.

PERMANENT HOUSING

Subsidized permanent housing can be difficult to find in New Haven. Many of the organizations that offer transitional housing can work with you to find permanent housing options.

The Housing Authority of New Haven (HANH)—which runs numerous housing developments in New Haven—is one place to look for permanent housing options. HANH has strict rules about accepting people with criminal records, and some offenses will make you ineligible for public housing. However, HANH has a new pilot program for some individuals with recent criminal records; contact Amy Meek, the City's reentry coordinator, for more details at 203-946-7658.

Housing Authority of New Haven (HANH)

360 Orange Street, New Haven, CT 06511

Phone: 203-498-8800

Email: info@hanh-ct.org

Website: www.newhavenhousing.org

Permanent subsidized housing for adults living in New Haven. Applications are accepted during publicly announced time periods. HANH will NOT accept applicants with certain criminal records.

Cost(s): Rent for subsidized properties will be based on 30% of the applicant's income (to be reexamined at least one per year, and whenever there is a change in income).

Language(s) Spoken: English, Spanish

Hours: M-F 9 a.m. – 5 p.m.

Population Served: Adults living in New Haven.

Restrictions:

Income Restrictions: Applicants must show that their income does not exceed the income limits established for occupancy as prescribed by the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

Citizenship Restrictions: At least one member of the household must be either a citizen or an eligible non-citizen.

Criminal Record Restrictions: HANH will deny eligibility for admission or continued occupancy to households that have a record of criminal activity or drug-related activity that would adversely affect the health, safety, or right to peaceful enjoyment of others. When determining whether to deny admission or continued occupancy based on drug-related activity or a criminal record, HANH will consider the applicant on a case-by-case basis (see below for specifics).

Referral/Drop In: Applications can be submitted only during specific time periods announced by HANH. Announcements of these application periods will be made in local newspapers. During the application period, HANH accepts pre-applications for a spot on a waiting list, and applicants will be assigned to one or more waiting lists upon submission of a complete application.

Documentation Needed Prior to Entry: Photo I.D., birth certificate, and pay stubs (if applicable).

Can You Apply Before You Leave Prison? Yes, although most criminal offenses will render applicants ineligible.

Accessibility: HANH is required by federal law to provide “reasonable accommodations” for those with disabilities.

Transportation Assistance Available: No.

Faith Based: No.

Other Services Available: Many of HANH’s properties have social service organizations on-site including food pantries, job training, medical services, religious services, supportive housing services and youth services.

HANH’s Criminal Record Restrictions

The Housing Authority will consider the application of someone with a criminal record on case-by-case basis. Therefore, whether or not HANH will deny admission to an applicant for public housing based on his or her criminal record is hard to predict. For more information about public housing options available to individuals with criminal records, contact the city’s reentry coordinator, Amy Meek, at 203-946-7658.

In accordance with federal requirements, the Housing Authority will always reject applicants with the following types of criminal records:

- HANH will reject applicants if any household member has been convicted of arson.
- HANH will reject applicants if any household member has been convicted of drug-related criminal activity for manufacture or production of methamphetamine on public housing premises.
- HANH will reject any applicant who has been convicted of child molestation or any applicant who is subject to a lifetime registration requirement on a sex offender registry.

HOUSING ASSISTANCE & SERVICES

While the following organizations do not necessarily provide housing or shelter services, they are able to help individuals with issues that they have concerning housing, including finding appropriate housing, fighting housing discrimination, home ownership and paying back rent owed.

Columbus House – Homelessness Prevention and Rapid Rehousing Program

586 Ella T. Grasso Boulevard, New Haven, CT 06519

Phone: 203-401-4400

Email: info@columbushouse.org

Website: www.columbushouse.org

For individuals who do not have enough income to pay their current rent, either in an existed home or a new unit, the Homelessness Prevention and Rapid Rehousing Program administered through Columbus House can provide some assistance with rent going forward if there is sufficient evidence that you can pay your own rent in the near future.

Restrictions: Your household income must fall at or below 50% of average median income for the area. You must be homeless, or would be homeless but for this assistance.

Community Mediation, Inc.

32 Elm Street, New Haven, CT 06510

Phone: 203-782-3500

Email: mail@cmmediation.org

Website: www.community-mediation.org

Offers eviction and foreclosure prevention to qualified individuals, which may include rental/mortgage payments and security deposits. Also offers a homelessness intervention program and a homelessness prevention and rapid rehousing program for those who are homeless or at risk of homelessness. The Homelessness Intervention Program will help applicants, including those who have been released from prison within the last 6 months, find housing and may assist with up to $600 in rent or security deposit payments. The Homelessness Prevention and Rapid Rehousing Program can provide one-time assistance with a security deposit, back rent, or utility arrearage.

Cost(s): None.

Language(s) Spoken: English, Spanish

Hours: M-F, 9 a.m. – 5 p.m.

Population Served: Anyone meeting the program's income restrictions.

Restrictions: For the Homeless Intervention Program and the Eviction and Foreclosure Prevention Program, applicants must have a gross monthly household income of less than 60% of the gross monthly family income for Connecticut. For the Homeless

Prevention and Rapid Rehousing Program, applicants must have income that is at or below 50% of the area median income.

- For the Homelessness Intervention Program, applicants must be having trouble remaining in permanent housing for one of 10 reasons. One of these reasons is that the applicant has been released from prison within the last six months.
- For the Eviction and Foreclosure Prevention Program, applicants must have had an eviction proceeding started against them (meaning they have received a Notice to Quit or a Writ Summons and Complaint). Their rent must be no more than 60% of their gross income.
- For the Homeless Prevention and Rapid Rehousing Program, applicants can receive one-time assistance if they have no other resources and are able to document their need. Security Deposits: Applicants who are being evicted, are doubled-up in a home with other families, victims of domestic violence, or currently homeless can receive up to $1,200 toward a security deposit if they can document their ability to pay their rent. Back Rent: Applicants who are being evicted due to temporary loss of income, temporary increase in expenses, or have suffered some other hardship preventing them from paying rent can receive a one-time payment of up to $1,800 for individuals and $2,400 for families. Utility Arrearage: Applicants who have a shutoff notice from a utility company and live in subsidized housing with a clause in their lease that states that they can be evicted if utilities are not connected can receive one-time utility assistance of up to $1,800 for individuals and $2,400 for families.

Referral/Drop In: No referral is necessary to apply for Community Mediation services. You can get an application for assistance yourself by visiting their offices or by calling the office. Not all applicants will receive help from Community Mediation; the organization's ability to help applicants is contingent on their funding and availability.

Documentation Needed Prior to Entry: Photo I.D. For the Homelessness Intervention Project, applicant will need to provide proof of their living situation.

APT Vocational Services

495 Congress Avenue, New Haven, CT 06511

Phone: 203-781-4670 Fax: 203-781-4796

Website: www.aptfoundation.org

Provides specialized vocational rehabilitation to individuals with substance abuse and/or mental health issues. The only requirement for services is that the client is enrolled in a program of recovery, which can include 12-Step programs. Case managers work with SAGA recipients, DSS recipients, and homeless individuals who have both mental health and substance abuse issues. Case Managers focus both on assisting with placement in employment and on overcoming barriers to employment that include homelessness, lack of transportation, lack of appropriate clothing, lack of childcare, and healthcare. The length of the program is determined by client progress, client motivation and the type of goals clients set for themselves.

Services Include:

- Vocational Assessment & Counseling: Individualized evaluations & treatment plans help clients identify their vocational interests, skills and self-concept measures, and set and work towards realistic vocational goals.

- Case Management: A liaison helps each client to obtain services they may need. Housing, transportation, child care and clothing needs are addressed.
- Life Skills & Goal-Setting Groups: Designed for persons with minimal or poor work histories, the groups address issues such as activities of daily living, work values, decision-making, drug and alcohol issues at work, time management, and specific job retention skills
- Individual Volunteer On-the-Job Placement: Tailored to a client's vocational interest area, this experience exposes clients who are not prepared for full-time employment to different aspects of work on a limited basis to develop work-related skills, increase self-esteem, and to build a credible work history.
- Job-Seeking Skills Groups: Teaches skills such as completing job applications, job interviewing skills, networking for job leads, and resume preparation.
- Educational Placements: Provides needs-based referrals to agencies for resources such as funding for continuing education and on-the-job training. Includes follow-up individual or group counseling.
- Day and Evening Support Groups: Peer groups are available to help clients in training, school, and new employment resolve new and/or stressful situations.
- Job Placement: The AVS job developer, client diligence, and community integration work to obtain and maintain suitable employment. Follow-up continues for an extended period.
- In-Service Training: Offers information for counselors on vocational topics including disabilities and how they affect employment, assessment of readiness for vocational services, taking a vocational history, integration of clinical and vocational issues, resume writing, legal issues in the employment of substance abusers, teaching job seeking skills, etc.
- Employer Education: Information and consultation is provided to prospective employers to increase awareness of various disabilities and the relevant vocational implications and legal rights of the disabled. Career Fairs are held annually to introduce local employers with clients.

Costs: None.

Language(s) Spoken: English/Spanish

Hours: 8:00am to 4:30pm Monday-Friday

Population Served: Individuals with substance abuse or mental health disorders who are having difficulty seeking and securing employment without support.

Works to improve families' self-sufficiency through increased financial and medical support and to establish paternity for children born out of wedlock. This program locates absent parents, establishes paternity, establishes and modifies orders of support, and collects and distributes child support payments. Child support services are available to both custodial and non-custodial parents, regardless of their income. You may apply for child support services at the DSS office nearest you.

Requirements: When you receive child support services you have these responsibilities:

You Must:

- provide all information you can about the noncustodial parent
- if you receive state assistance, assign all of your support rights to the state for past, present or future payments; part of your support is set aside from your state assistance so you can become financially independent
- provide bills for day care and/or unreimbursed medical expenses to the parent under court order to pay

You May:

- be required to testify at a court hearing for paternity and support
- be denied cash benefits, if you are applying for state assistance and you do not provide important information to help process your case
- be exempt from cooperation requirements in exceptional circumstances and situations involving domestic violence

Eligibility: Under Federal regulations, BCSE is required to provide child support services to any individual or agency upon request. To request BCSE child support services, an individual may either apply through their local child support agency or submit their request to BCSE directly.

Fax: 203-789-6425

Website: <http://www.jud.ct.gov/childsupport/default.htm>

We work closely with state and federal agencies to operate the Connecticut Child Support Enforcement Program. Our primary job is to help parents enforce and modify their child support orders. Our mission is to help parents secure financial and medical support for their children by providing quality services and information to parents, the court and the community in a courteous, efficient and effective manner that is sensitive to the contributions both parents make to their children's development.

Child Support Modification

We may be able to assist incarcerated or recently released individuals in obtaining a court-ordered change in the weekly amount of child support owed if you are unable to pay.

- An individual who owes child support is entitled to request that his or her child support order be reviewed for a possible change in the weekly amount.
- State Law requires that the court use an individual's present income to determine the amount of child support.
- Individuals with an income of less than $50 per week may be exempt from paying child support.

If you would like Support Enforcement Services to review your case to see if you are eligible for a change in your order, you can obtain a Modification Request form on the Support Enforcement Services website:

<http://www.jud2.ct.gov/webforms/forms/fm174.pdf>

You may also request a review by sending a letter directly to SES at 414A Chapel Street, New Haven, CT 06510, or you may call 203-789-7485, choose the customer service option, and ask for a review. You can return the form by mail to the address above if you are incarcerated and unable to visit the office in person.

LEGAL ASSISTANCE & LAW-RELATED

Connecticut Pardon Team, Inc.

P.O. Box 807, 307 Main Street, Norwich CT 06360

Phone: 866-251-3810 or 860-823-1571

Provides information and education to help individuals with criminal conviction histories determine their eligibility to apply for a non-inmate pardon. To be eligible for a full pardon, an individual must have successfully completed parole or probation and remained conviction-free for the term prescribed by law (three years for a misdemeanor, five for a felony). Individuals with convictions can also apply immediately for a provisional pardon, which may provide some advantage in seeking employment. Specifically, Connecticut law prohibits employers from denying employment to a prospective employee or discharging or discriminating against an employee solely on the basis of a conviction that occurred before his or her employment for which the person has received a provisional pardon.
